Apostrophes to Show Possession

Sometimes using the words belongs to doesn't sound right.

For example if we were introducing someone we wouldn't say:

These are the parents that belong to Maddison.

What do you think we would say?

We would probably say:

These are Maddison's parents.

Apostrophes to Show Possession

These are Maddison's parents.

What do you notice about this sentence?
Look at the name Maddison.

This sentence contains an apostrophe.

The apostrophe in this sentence tells us that the parents belong to Maddison.

We need the apostrophe to make it clear to our reader who it belongs to.

Apostrophes to Show Possession

When we say something belongs to someone, we add an 's' to the end of the word. However we also do this when the word becomes plural.

So we add an apostrophe before the 's' to show our reader we mean 'belongs to'.

one cat

The cat's bed

two cats

The dog's bed

Apostrophes to Show Possession

On your whiteboards, rewrite the sentences below so that they contain an apostrophe. The first one has been done for you.

Remember when we are showing that something belongs to one person, we add the apostrophe before the 's'.

Spot the Possessive Apostrophe

When we want to show that something belongs to someone, we use an apostrophe.

But we also use an apostrophe to show that there are letters missing in words.

Look at the two sentences below:

Jabriel's mum baked the delicious chocolate cake.

There wasn't much of it left when dad got home.

Which of these sentences includes a possessive apostrophe?

Hint – remember the apostrophe tells us who something or someone belongs to.

Spot the Possessive Apostrophe

Working with your partner, read through the story. Can you spot the possessive apostrophes?

Take care! Not all of the apostrophes in the story are marking possession. Some are marking missing letters.

Spot the Possessive Apostrophe

I can identify possessive apostrophes when I'm reading.

1. Read the short story below. Working with your partner, highlight all the possessive apostrophes you find. Be careful, some of the apostrophes are marking missing letters and not possession.

It was the day of the Great Celebration in Giant's Village. All of the giants had gathered in the town square for the opening of the carnival. There was lots of excited chatter as the mayor approached the microphone.

'Good afternoon giants of Giant's Village. Welcome to the Great Celebration Carnival.'

There was a huge cheer from the giants as the mayor spoke.

'It's my pleasure', the mayor continued, 'to officially open the carnival. We have lots of entertainment on stage today and lots of delicious food for you to try. I will be heading to the food tent to try some of mum's special pie... get it before it's all gone!'

Suddenly, the sky turned black and the giants fell silent. From above, they heard a wicked laugh. The giants looked up. High above them, on her broom, was a wicked witch. The witch's wand sent a blue bolt of light to the ground and hail stones the size of tennis balls began to fall all around. The giants began to run for cover. The witch's laugh got louder as she watched them run. Another bolt of light, this time green, flew from the witch's wand and the hail stones turned into frogs which began to chase the giants around the town square.

'Help!' shouted one of the giants, 'I'm scared of frogs and I can't get away!'

Suddenly another flash of light appeared in the sky, but this one was not from the witch's wand. The giants looked over to the mayor's stage. Stood on it was the good wizard. He lifted his wand and pointed at the witch's broom. A bright red light flew from the wizard's wand. It hit the witch's broom and knocked her clean off it. The witch fell into the lake, never to be seen again. The giants cheered loudly and invited the wizard to join in with the celebration. He was given the largest piece of mum's special pie!
